What a year it has been!

First, I would like to recognize the difficulties of 2020-2021: the pandemic, racial injustice, and the political climate, among others, that we all experienced in varying degrees.

We have collectively met challenges, been through ups and downs, experienced losses, transitioned to working remotely, and been impacted in our personal, professional or student life, but resilience and perseverance have kept us moving forward!

The 2020-2021 A.S. Board of Directors was immersed completely in virtual mode; a unique and challenging situation, albeit ultimately successful through the actions they took to support our Spartan community. I want to briefly highlight some accomplishments and recognitions for Associated Students:

a message from the

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

- * The A.S. Board of Directors continued to represent and advocate for students virtually—staying open to communication with students and releasing several resolutions and letters of support for efforts focused on unity, equity, social justice and student success.
- * The Child Development Center (CDC) remained open in-person in 2020-2021 to provide critical support to SJSU student-parents, staff and faculty. An anti-bias curriculum was developed by the staff to teach the children.
- * The Campus Community Garden, a program under the César Chávez Community Action Center (CCCAC), underwent a Universal Design project aimed at making the space more accessible and truly Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)-compliant.
- * The organization pivoted to a fully virtual mode for services and programs, with events offered online by A.S. Events, CCCAC and the student government Programming Board.
- * Online transactions were offered by the General Services Center (GSC), Print & Technology Center (PTC), and Transportation Solutions (T.S.).
- * An internal A.S. Pandemic Response Team was created to guide our organization through the ever-changing COVID-19 guidelines, protocols, and requirements; aimed at a proactive, rather than a reactive stance, at staying ahead of the curve and keeping our staff safe.
- * Moved in January 2020 from 4th Street to 10th Street to make way for the new Interdisciplinary Science Building, the A.S. House was refurbished and is now occupied by a number of A.S. departments. It currently offers meeting and study spaces for students.

We also suffered a loss as an organization. Joan Wilson, our Executive Assistant for five years, passed away in May 2021. A number of professional staff and previous A.S. Board presidents attended a beautiful memorial to bid farewell to our beloved friend and colleague.

I want to recognize the professional staff working in the various A.S. departments. Our staff has been here to support and engage students all throughout the pandemic. I want to express my thanks for all that they have done and continue to do.

The work we do at Associated Students impacts student lives in so many ways. Today the sun is shining brighter and I hope that, just like me, you are ready to work towards positive changes and student success as we continue to face the challenges of an ongoing pandemic!

Spartan Up!

A.S. PRESIDENT

San Jose State University embodies a vibrant community with a strong culture of service and talented leaders. In the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Spartan community led with resilience, strength, and perseverance.

Associated Students' commitment to the student community remained strong as the world faced new and changing challenges and people's lives adjusted drastically to the pandemic. The A.S. Board of Directors advocated for academic flexibility and accommodation in support of students. The A.S. Board virtually met with elected government officials to empower the voices of students and champion a more accessible, affordable, and quality system of public higher education.

The A.S. Board at SJSU was one of the first in the CSU to endorse The Philippine Human Rights Act (PHRA) alongside outstanding community leaders. Throughout 2020-2021, a number of Board resolutions were adopted to establish a collective campus voice focused on awareness, equity and unity. At the forefront of our work was the goal of nurturing globally-aware and action-oriented initiatives for our campus.

It truly does take a village to uplift a community and move it forward. Associated Students has, and will always, stay on mission to advocate for students, increase student engagement and lead initiatives towards your success! I call on the Spartan community to continue to hold each other in strength and compassion and to inspire educational growth, personal development, and innovation—even in these unprecedented times.

In Community,

At the end of fall 2020, the A.S. Board of Directors approved the funding for the Universal Design renovation of the CCCAC's Campus Community Garden.

UNIVERSAL DESIGN

RENOVATION

- ✓ ADA accessible entrance/door and ramp
- ✓ ADA-compliant Porta Potty
- ✓ ADA-compliant sink and kitchen
- ✓ Front half of the garden paved for accessibility
- ✓ Open-air welcome center and space
- ✓ Raised garden beds

"I'm so excited to share this as we will be the first CSU to implement Universal Design at a campus community garden."

- Diana Victa, CCCAC Manager

Universal Design has enabled the community garden to be accessed, understood and used, to the greatest extent possible, by people regardless of age, size, and ability or disability. It brings to light the intersectionality of ableism and environmental justice.

The project broke ground in January 2021 and came to full fruition with the grand opening and harvest festival in September 2021, replete with activities such as arts and crafts, Yoga, sound healing with Tibetan bowls, music and refreshments. All are welcome.

Associated Students would like to thank Diana Victa, Kaitlyn Meyer (Garden Coordinator) and the garden staff, Carole Dowell, A.S. Board of Directors, Timothy Gridley (SJSU Project Manager), Cindy Marota and Ignacia Villavelazquez-Hill of the Accessible Education Center (AEC), and Dynasel USA, Santa Clara-based Universal Design consultant.

Transportation Solutions (T.S.) adjusted its programs to ensure support to the Spartan community despite the significant decrease in ridership and general transportation mobility in 2020-2021. The department focused on updating and promoting its COVID-19 Transit Safety information on its website, ts.sjsu.edu, to provide the most up-to-date information during the pandemic.

Transportation Solutions is currently going through the approval process to have the first-ever SJSU Transportation Demand Management (TDM) Plan completed. This plan focuses on cost-effective programs, incentives, and infrastructure to encourage alternative transportation use. The TDM plan, completed and if properly implemented, can significantly reduce traffic and parking demand at SJSU, while addressing future growth and long-term economic and environmental sustainability.

Tiffany Rodriguez, Department Manager, worked with the A.S. Board of Directors to sign a board resolution in Support for the Implementation of Bay Area Seamless Transit. The proposed program was developed to guide local, regional, and state decision-makers to pursue a seamlessly integrated, world-class transit system to benefit all students by making transportation throughout the Bay Area, affordable, equitable, and easy to use. The resolution is posted on sjsu.edu/as/boardhours.

CDC PROGRAM ADJUSTMENTS

DURING THE PANDEMIC

Daily educational activities with children and families were held in-person.

Family events and parent-teacher conferences were hosted virtually.

Teachers created YouTube videos showing them reading books and singing songs.

Classroom sizes were reduced with up to 12 children and two Lead Teachers per classroom.

Classrooms became self-sufficient to prevent the co-mingling of staff and assistants in other rooms.

A drop-off and pick-up policy was implemented outside the center.

Center staff would perform a daily health check on each child before they could enter the building.

The CDC looks forward to progress to a more immersive and safe environment when it can serve more SJSU families and create more job opportunities for students.

66

When I started working at the center, I was in the infant room and I had never even changed a diaper. I was so scared, but I quickly realized that the wonderful teachers and T.A.s (teaching assistants) were all there to help. Working at the center was the best job I could have had as a student. The community is built on helping, bettering and educating each other. I also learned so many new skills while working there, and that goes for working with the children and the staff. This knowledge is now part of my foundation of how to work with kids, especially infants and toddlers.

PTC PROGRAM ADJUSTMENTS

DURING THE PANDEMIC

75 percent decrease in personnel headcount in Print Shop Counter Clerks and IT Technicians.

Offered virtual technology support for professional staff and A.S. student assistants.

Customized the new voting application for the A.S. Elections.

The tech side saw a flurry of action at the beginning of the work-from-home, where they had to make sure that staff were able to access the necessary resources to complete their work remotely. Access to accounts, documents, hardware, and software, were just some of the continuing support services addressed by the PTC.

On the print side, the department worked to develop more printing options for when the campus started to have partial in-person students, staff, and faculty in August 2021.

MARKETING

The A.S. Marketing team worked to promote the events, programs and services of Associated Students in 2020-2021 despite the ongoing pandemic. There was a significant uptick in demand for information on how the organization was transitioning the work of the A.S. Board of Directors and the various A.S. departments to full virtual mode.

Social media, the Spartan Scoop newsletter, and the A.S. website became some of the main channels for updated information. Marketers across the CSU campuses connected to work on messaging that was timely and supportive. The team worked remotely with creativity and efficiency as its driving force. Marketing regularly held Zoom meetings and connected with internal clients on projects that supported student engagement and success.
