

7 REASONS TO JOIN SGA

When considering which extracurricular organization to become involved with, why not consider being active in your campus' Student Government Association? Becoming an SGA senator can help with your career, build social skills and enhance personal development.

NETWORKING

The easiest and best way to network with students who have similar interests is joining a student organization. It can help you with your career, hobby or anything that you are passionate about.

SOCIAL SKILLS

As a student, you want to learn how to talk outside of your social clique or sports team. As a member of SGA, you have the opportunity to build social skills.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

If you join a committee within student government, you will be exposed to professional career development that you may not have the opportunity to be involved with otherwise.

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT

If you join a student organization, your communication skills will improve by interacting with a wide variety of people. You will learn to balance education, organizational work and focus on your goals.

LEADERSHIP SKILLS

If you become part of the executive board, you take up the responsibility and challenge of being a leader. The organization that you become a part of will give you hands-on training and instill strong leadership skills.

ORGANIZATION SKILLS

Most people are not familiar with how an organization functions and how they are managed. In SGA, you will have the opportunity to learn to budget, how to run a professional meeting, how to plan for an event and how to work with a team.

STEP IN, STAND OUT.

College is not just about going to class. It's about building relationships, expanding your interests and challenging yourself in order to prepare for your future career. In SGA, you will expand your networks and skill set. Join SGA to share your ideas, plan projects and represent the Brevard College student body.
